The Dog Knows

That there is something wrong with his master. They have no more romps and gambols. He tries in vain to coax the listless youth from his chair.

When the lungs are diseased, physical weakness soon begins to show itself and the active outdoor life is given up. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the lungs and other organs of the respiratory system. It cures coughs, deep-seated coughs, bleeding lungs, emaciation and other conditions which if neglected or unsatisfactorily treated may find a fatal termination in consumption.

After using about five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my boy seems to be all right," writes Mr. J. W. Price, of Ozark, Missouri, Co. "He was very bad when I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' The doctors claimed he had consumption and was doomed. It has been ten months since he stopped taking your medicine and he is in good health. We are very thankful to you for saving our son."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit for the dealer but a loss for you.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

"Can't you eat?"
"O yes, can."
"Latest improvements in teeth."
"Our patient section."
"Never fails down."

Call and have a set with the above improvements. Old loose and ill-fitting plates corrected in fit, durability and comfort perfectly true to nature.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

The statement that the late William S. Yeatman, formerly disbursing clerk at the War Department, was a defaulter to the amount of $18,000 was made yesterday by District Attorney Gould. At the time of the death of Mr. Yeatman, in York, Pa., about a year ago, over $14,000 was found in his safe. After a brief examination of his accounts it was stated by the government's examiners that his stewardship was all right.

The statement was made yesterday morning before Chief Justice Bingham of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia sitting for probate business. In laying the matter before the court Mr. Gould said that he was informed late on Monday afternoon by an officer of the Department of Justice that there were irregularities in the accounts of Mr. Yeatman, and as his estate was about being settled he deemed it best to call the matter to the attention of the court, inasmuch as the government always has a first lien upon the estate of any one who may be indebted to it.

In consequence of the information he had received, Mr. Gould asked the court not to allow the report of the administrator of the estate, Mr. Martin R. Thorp, to be passed until the Government filed its claim, which would be done in a day or two.

Mr. Yeatman died at York, Pa., about a year ago, leaving four children and his heirs-at-law. Soon after his death Miss Nellie Farley claimed his personal property, and as the result of replevin proceedings was given possession of Mr. Yeatman's horses and carriage. She then filed suit in equity to get possession of the balance of his personal estate.

The first discrepancy in the accounts of Mr. Yeatman was discovered in January last. Then it was found that a voucher which had passed through his hands was raised from $5,000 to $10,000. This gave rise to suspicion and expert accountants were put to work on his accounts since the time he took charge of the office.

On close examination it was discovered, it is said, that there were more than one voucher altered and raised. As stated, the total amount discovered up to yesterday is about $18,000.

Mr. Yeatman was appointed disbursing clerk for the War Department in October, 1885, and from that time to April 20, 1901, when he died, the work of the examiners show the following approximate shortages in his accounts: During the year 1893, $2,000; 1898, $3,000, and the year 1900, $10,000, making a total of $18,000.

CONGRESS ADJOURNED.
The first session of the Fifth-seventh Congress closed yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Before adjourning it agreed to the Philippine civil government bill, and the naval appropriation bill, and the general deficiency bill, the three measures of first importance that had remained unacted on up to yesterday, and had to be disposed of before adjournment could be reached.

The sessions in both houses opened early, the House of Representatives at 10 o'clock and the Senate at 11, but before the hour of adjournment had arrived both Senate and House were forced to take recesses or sing songs to fill in the time.

The session in the House, so far as business is concerned, was uneventful, but the Senate had a hot overhauling of the entire Philippine question, with speeches by the leaders of both sides.

The two houses adopted the usual resolution fixing the hour of adjournment as soon as it was seen that the day would be the last one. The House originated the resolution and it was concurred in by the Senate without the necessity of a conference committee.

The usual formal agreement to notify the President that Congress had convened its labors was also reached. While these things were being taken place in the Senate and House the President was playing his part in making laws also in the President's room in the north end of the Capitol. He signed all the important bills passed yesterday.

Finally, when the hour of adjournment had nearly arrived, the committee from Congress called on him and delivered its message, received the information that he had nothing further to communicate, and returned to the two houses with the news. This being accomplished successfully, the two presiding officers swung down their gavels, announcing the end of the session.

PEACEMAKER KILLED.
James J. Childers, ex-chief of police, was shot and instantly killed in a saloon at Clarksburg, W. Va., yesterday evening by William Myers, second lieutenant of the fire department. The bullet entered the heart and Childers dropped dead without a struggle or word. Myers was drinking heavily, and quarreled with

One Person Tells Another

ABOUT KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE.

That's Why Its Sale is Increasing so Rapidly—So there must be Something to Merit After All.

Fair minded people always admit it when they find an article of merit. If it has done them good they want it to help others, too. Thousands bear witness to the wonderful curative qualities of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It is the only preparation which positively and completely digests any good food you may eat. No one disputes the fact that some other digestives partially accomplish this result. Pepsin, for instance, is found in the healthy stomach. When it is lacking, the patient takes pepsin and it helps him. But pepsin digests only albuminous foods, like meat and eggs. May be there's plenty of pepsin and a lack of the other digestives. Then it goes to good. That's the trouble with the other preparations. They don't contain all the digestants. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure contains them all. It digests any good food you want. You don't have to diet. The feeling of fullness after eating is immediately relieved by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

"Used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for dyspepsia and it gave me relief at once. I can highly recommend it." E. D. Williamson, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"I had dyspepsia in its worst form and felt miserable most of the time until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which has completely cured me." Mrs. W. W. Saylor, Willard, Pa.

Charles C. Hurst, and Childers tried to act as peacemaker. Myers then assaulted Childers and shot him dead. Myers was arrested. Myers and Hurst, it developed at the inquest, entered the Crescent saloon together, seemingly in a quarrelsome mood with each other, but they drank together and tarried at the bar awhile. Hurst went back to the rear room, where Childers was playing poker and remained there until Myers announced that he would set up the drinks to the house. Hurst and Childers came out and drank with him. When another drink was ordered Myers asked for whiskey, and Hurst told him he had enough. They scuffled, and Childers interfered and tried to persuade Myers to quit the saloon. Myers turned upon Childers, grabbed him by the neck with one hand, and with the remark: "I will fix you," shot him dead. Officers rushed in and arrested Myers. He was spirited to jail, and is being closely guarded. The evidence was conflicting before the coroner's jury as to Myers' condition. Some claimed he was drunk, others said he was not. Much excitement prevails over the affair. The safety of the prisoner is doubtful. The men had always been on the most friendly terms, and were distantly related. Childers leaves four young motherless children.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

MOTHER ALWAYS KEEPS IT HANDY.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now at the age of seventy-six, eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is doing your health cause, Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic. For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

STORE NEWS.

Tackett, Baker & Co.

JUST LISTEN A MOMENT

What the People Say.

Scarcely a day but what we hear some one say "so and so told us what a nice store you had, and really we find it a pleasure to deal here. Everything so free and easy, goods so nicely displayed, such a variety of all kinds, no matter how good, no matter how cheap, and this is just what we need in Alexandria—an up-to-date, wide awake store." When we find Tackett, Baker & Co. is the subject of such conversation in the homes of this city we know very well that our efforts to please are not in vain. We want every patron of this store to come again and if anything occurs which is in the least unpleasant please report it and we will be happy to make amends. We feel dependent upon the people of this city, and our business must be conducted upon the most liberal principles of justice and fair dealing, and we have said before every statement we make is a sacred pledge to the public, and whatever you get here, must be reasonably satisfactory or we buy it back for the money you paid. We propose to keep up the high standard of this store's reputation, but we have made many changes and added many new lines, and our stock of goods—merchandise, together with our finer grades, gives us a most complete stock, so that we have calls for but few goods which we cannot show.
